HEBER CITY

"UNDER WASATCH SKIES"

ited from Provo and either sent to raid the Army ply trains or stationed in the canyons to defend the mon settlers. A good many men engaged in movfamilies south in the exodus of 1858.

By June of 1858, Provo City sheltered many saints had fled their northern homes at the coming of nston's Army. Brigham Young, the most prominent or in the city at the time, called a meeting at the ery on June 6, 1858, to discuss building the road up o Canyon. There were now multiple reasons for nning construction. Gardner had noted the plentiful ly of timber in the upper valleys of the Provo and er Rivers some six years earlier, and the time had when the timber was needed. President Young is speech to those assembled remarked:

A road up Provo Kanyon is much needed, and we want ten or twenty companies of laborers to go on it forthwith in order to finish it in about fifteen days so that you can go into the valleys of the Weber where there is plenty of timber.

I understand that a company has been chartered y the legislative assembly to make that road if those men will come forward we will take the reponsibility of making it. We shall need about 500 aborers.<sup>2</sup>

The next night the group, including President Young, r C. Kimball, Daniel H. Wells, several of the twelve les, and a large number of brethren, reassembled at owery. Here the Provo Kanyon Company was ized. Brigham Young took 200 shares of stock. norz Little was appointed to superintend the makthe road and W. G. Mills was named clerk of the any.<sup>3</sup>

The company worked the rest of the summer com-g the road. The river had to be bridged near the
